MYRTLE G. LAKINS

The funeral of Myrtle G. Lakins, 67, of Westbrook, who died at Hotel Dieu Hospital after an illness of one day, was held from the Ross Jones funeral home, Odessa. Rev. William Sparling officiated at the service.

Born in Ernestown Township, deceased was the daughter of the late David Frink and the former Elisabeth Reid. She lived in Moscow at one time but had lived at Westbrook for the past 27 years.

Mrs. Lakins attended Westbrook United Church, where she was active in the Women's Association. She was also active in the local Boy Scouts' mothers' auxiliary.

She was predeceased by her husband, Danford Lakins, in 1945. Mar. 30, 1961

Mrs. Lakins is survived by two daughters, Nellie and Elisabeth, both of Kingston; four sons, Clifford, Westbrook, Gerald of Odessa, Donald, Camden East, and Glen of Kingston; one sister, Mrs. Bernard Clifford, Millhaven; two brothers, Clifford Frink, Kingston, and Donald Frink of Odessa; and six grandchildren.

Pall-bearers were E. Reynolds, T. Moodie, H. Swaffield, L. Abrams, W. Kenny and W. MacDonald. Interment was at Moscow Cemetery.

"Can you buy some dye so I can color eggs for Easter?" Junior asks eagerly.

"A chocolate egg would be much simpler," his moth suggests.

"It would taste good . . . but it wouldn't be as much fun as coloring eggs."

Boys and girls of junior age love handicraft. Do let them either blow eggs or hard boil them and color them. The sets of vegetable dyes which may be purchased at a grocery store for pennies, etc., are useful.

Junior can use his paint box and set of poster paints. Special packages of dyes for Easter eggs have detailed directions. Spread out newspapers on the kitchen table and floor and keep an eye on the dying process so you can come to the rescue if needed.

To the early Christians the egg was symbolic to life after death. They rejoiced in the resurrection.

For centuries peoples of many lands — Egyptians, Romans, Persians, Greeks — have practiced the art of coloring signs on eggs. Some of these patterns were very ornate. This is far many New Canadians will recall childhood scenes in faraway countries as they color the traditional designs of their people on Easter eggs.

Ask your librarian for a copy of one of the delightful little book tales about the Easter rabbit. This legend can be traced to an old German superstition that white hares laid eggs on Easter Eve as a special gift. Good children looked for colored eggs and candies from this

LEONARD FRINK

The funeral of Leonard Frink, 76, of Harrowsmith, who died recently after a short illness, was held from his residence to Glenhaven Memorial Gardens. The service was conducted by Rev. George Cardy, minister of St. Paul's United Church, Harrowsmith.

Born at Hay Bay, he was the son of Luke and Maria Frink. He had been a resident of Harrowsmith for 46 years. For much of that time he had lived on a farm near Star Corners, but had lived in the village since retiring.

Mr. Frink was predeceased by his wife, the former Sarah Barr. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Bruce Shangraw (Edna) of Hartington; Mrs. Muriel Elliott (Muriel), both of Harrowsmith; and one son, Earl, Moscow; two brothers, Walter Frink, of Collins Bay, and John, of Kingston; two sisters, Mrs. Hannah Cranston, Sydenham, and Mrs. Eliza Steel, of Ilion, N.Y., and 16 grandchildren.

Pall-bearers were Michael McConnell, Edward McConnell, Bert Simkins, George Ruttan, Archibald Clark and William Quinn. Flower-bearers were Otis Hardy, Kingston; Ernest Frink, Collins Bay; Frederick Shangraw, of Harrowsmith, and Jack Snider, of Sydenham.

for Federal subsidies just before they climb into their new cars for a holiday in Florida. All the agrarian-reform parties that have sprung up in the West, have battered themselves to death trying to storm the ramparts of Parliament Hill.

Mr. Douglas knows all this. So do the New Party promoters who are pushing him into running. In doing so, they are exposing the biggest weakness of the New Party. It just doesn't have leadership material.

C.C.F. leader Hazen Argue is going to make a fight out of the New Party leadership. He is young, and he's ambitious. But he must know he has no national stature, and here again he is a man identified as a wheat farmer, Western radical.

Moreover, Hazen Argue would never appeal to the intellectual leftists on which the New Party will lean for much of its support. He is rash and makes hasty assessments.

It would not be far from the truth to say the New Party promoters look upon Toron-

WALTER E. FRINK

Burial was made recently in Cataraqui cemetery for Walter Ernest Frink, 76, Collins Bay, who died Aug. 3 at Kingston General Hospital. 1963

Mr. Frink's death came less than one hour after being struck by a truck while he crossed Highway 33 at Collins Bay.

He was born at Napanee, a son of the late Luke Frink and his wife, the former Maria Blanchard.

A retired farmer, he had been a Kingston district resident for 70 years and attended the United Church. He was a member of the board of trustees at the Edith Rankin Memorial United Church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ruby Sprott; four daughters, Mrs. Edward (Pauline) Schultz, Ottawa; Mrs. Kenneth (Geraldine) Bustard, Collins Bay; Mrs. Douglas (Barbara) McIlquham, Hamilton; and Mrs. Douglas (Bertie) Little, Collins Bay; a son, Ernest, also of Collins Bay; and a sister, Mrs. Walter (Hannah) Cranston of Napanee.

Rev. Berry Armstrong officiated at a funeral service held at the R. B. Cullen funeral home.

Honorary pall-bearers were Larry Flynn, William Renfrew, Harold Clark, Douglas Moore, Barney Gray and Andrew Compton.

Pall-bearers were Howard McGreer, Clifford Frink, Ray Keniston, Herbert Green, Earl Frink and Garnet Craig.

OBITUARY

WESLEY O. FRINK

Deseronto — Capt. Wesley Orvel Frink, a resident of Deseronto for 26 years, died Sat., Apr. 9, 1966, in the Lennox and Addington County General Hospital after several years of illness. He was in his 88th year.

Capt. Frink was born in Sillsville, in the Hay Bay district, the son of Robert Frink and his wife, who was Cynthia Sager before her marriage. He was educated in Sillsville and Odessa. In 1904 he married Sarah Amanda Storey, who survives him at their home, 124 Centre St., Deseronto.

He was a volunteer with the old 47th Regiment of Odessa during the Boer War, and got as far as Halifax, N.S. But he was not allowed to go to South Africa because of his youth.

Later he saw service with the 21st Battalion of Kingston during the First World War, and retired in 1918 with the rank of captain and the honorary rank of major. During the 1920's, he was a liquor inspector in Sudbury for a few years, and in 1925 joined the Ontario Provincial Police and was stationed in Belleville. His career was brought to a close in 1929 as the result of a motor accident when on duty. He was forced to retire in 1933. Since that time he had been a semi-invalid. Capt. Frink was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 280 and a life member of the Masonic Order, Craig Lodge, 401. He was a member of the Deseronto United Church.

He is survived by his wife; by his sons, Robert, of Belleville, and Douglas, of Ottawa; by his daughters, Mrs. Harry Brown, of Enderby, BC, and Mrs. Thomas Jordan, of Deseronto; by seven grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

The funeral service was held in the Deseronto United Church. Rev. Douglas Blair, a former pastor, conducted the service, with the assistance of Rev. Russell Finley, the present pastor.

A service was held by the Legion and a Masonic service.

The bearers were Legion members: Thomas Bowen, Sidney Brown, John Cousin, Eric Gustafson, and George Hopping.

Interment was in Deseronto Cemetery.

Frink, Hannah B. wife of Luke Frink

To all of the Frink relatives:

I have now some problems with the ancestry of Luke Frink; also his 1st wife and 2nd wife. His third wife and family are complete and satisfaction.

I had always believed that Experience Kellogg as his 1st wife and her only one daughter Mary Adelaide Frink who was born 16 Dec 1851 (my directly great grandmother). His second wife Almira Kellogg and bear him two more daughter: Permella and Almira.

Somehow some years later, I found the letter of Mrs. Velma Little of Bath, Ontario, Canada which is dated 11 January 1971 in other box which I usually put letters that are our ordinary letters from our closest relatives. Apparently, I put Mrs. Little's letter in that box by mistake....yes, a stupid mistake! It was until last week, I cleaned up these letters...discard some of them, etc....until I noticed the Mrs. Little....who is she???? I read it....I realized this letter turned out to be most valuable one....happy? No, I was rather mad and disgust because I already have the pedigree of Luke Frink which is almost complete. The question is that letter is more correct than what I have. Also I learned that one of Luke's wife is came from Hubbell family. Normally, I put valuable letters in my files.

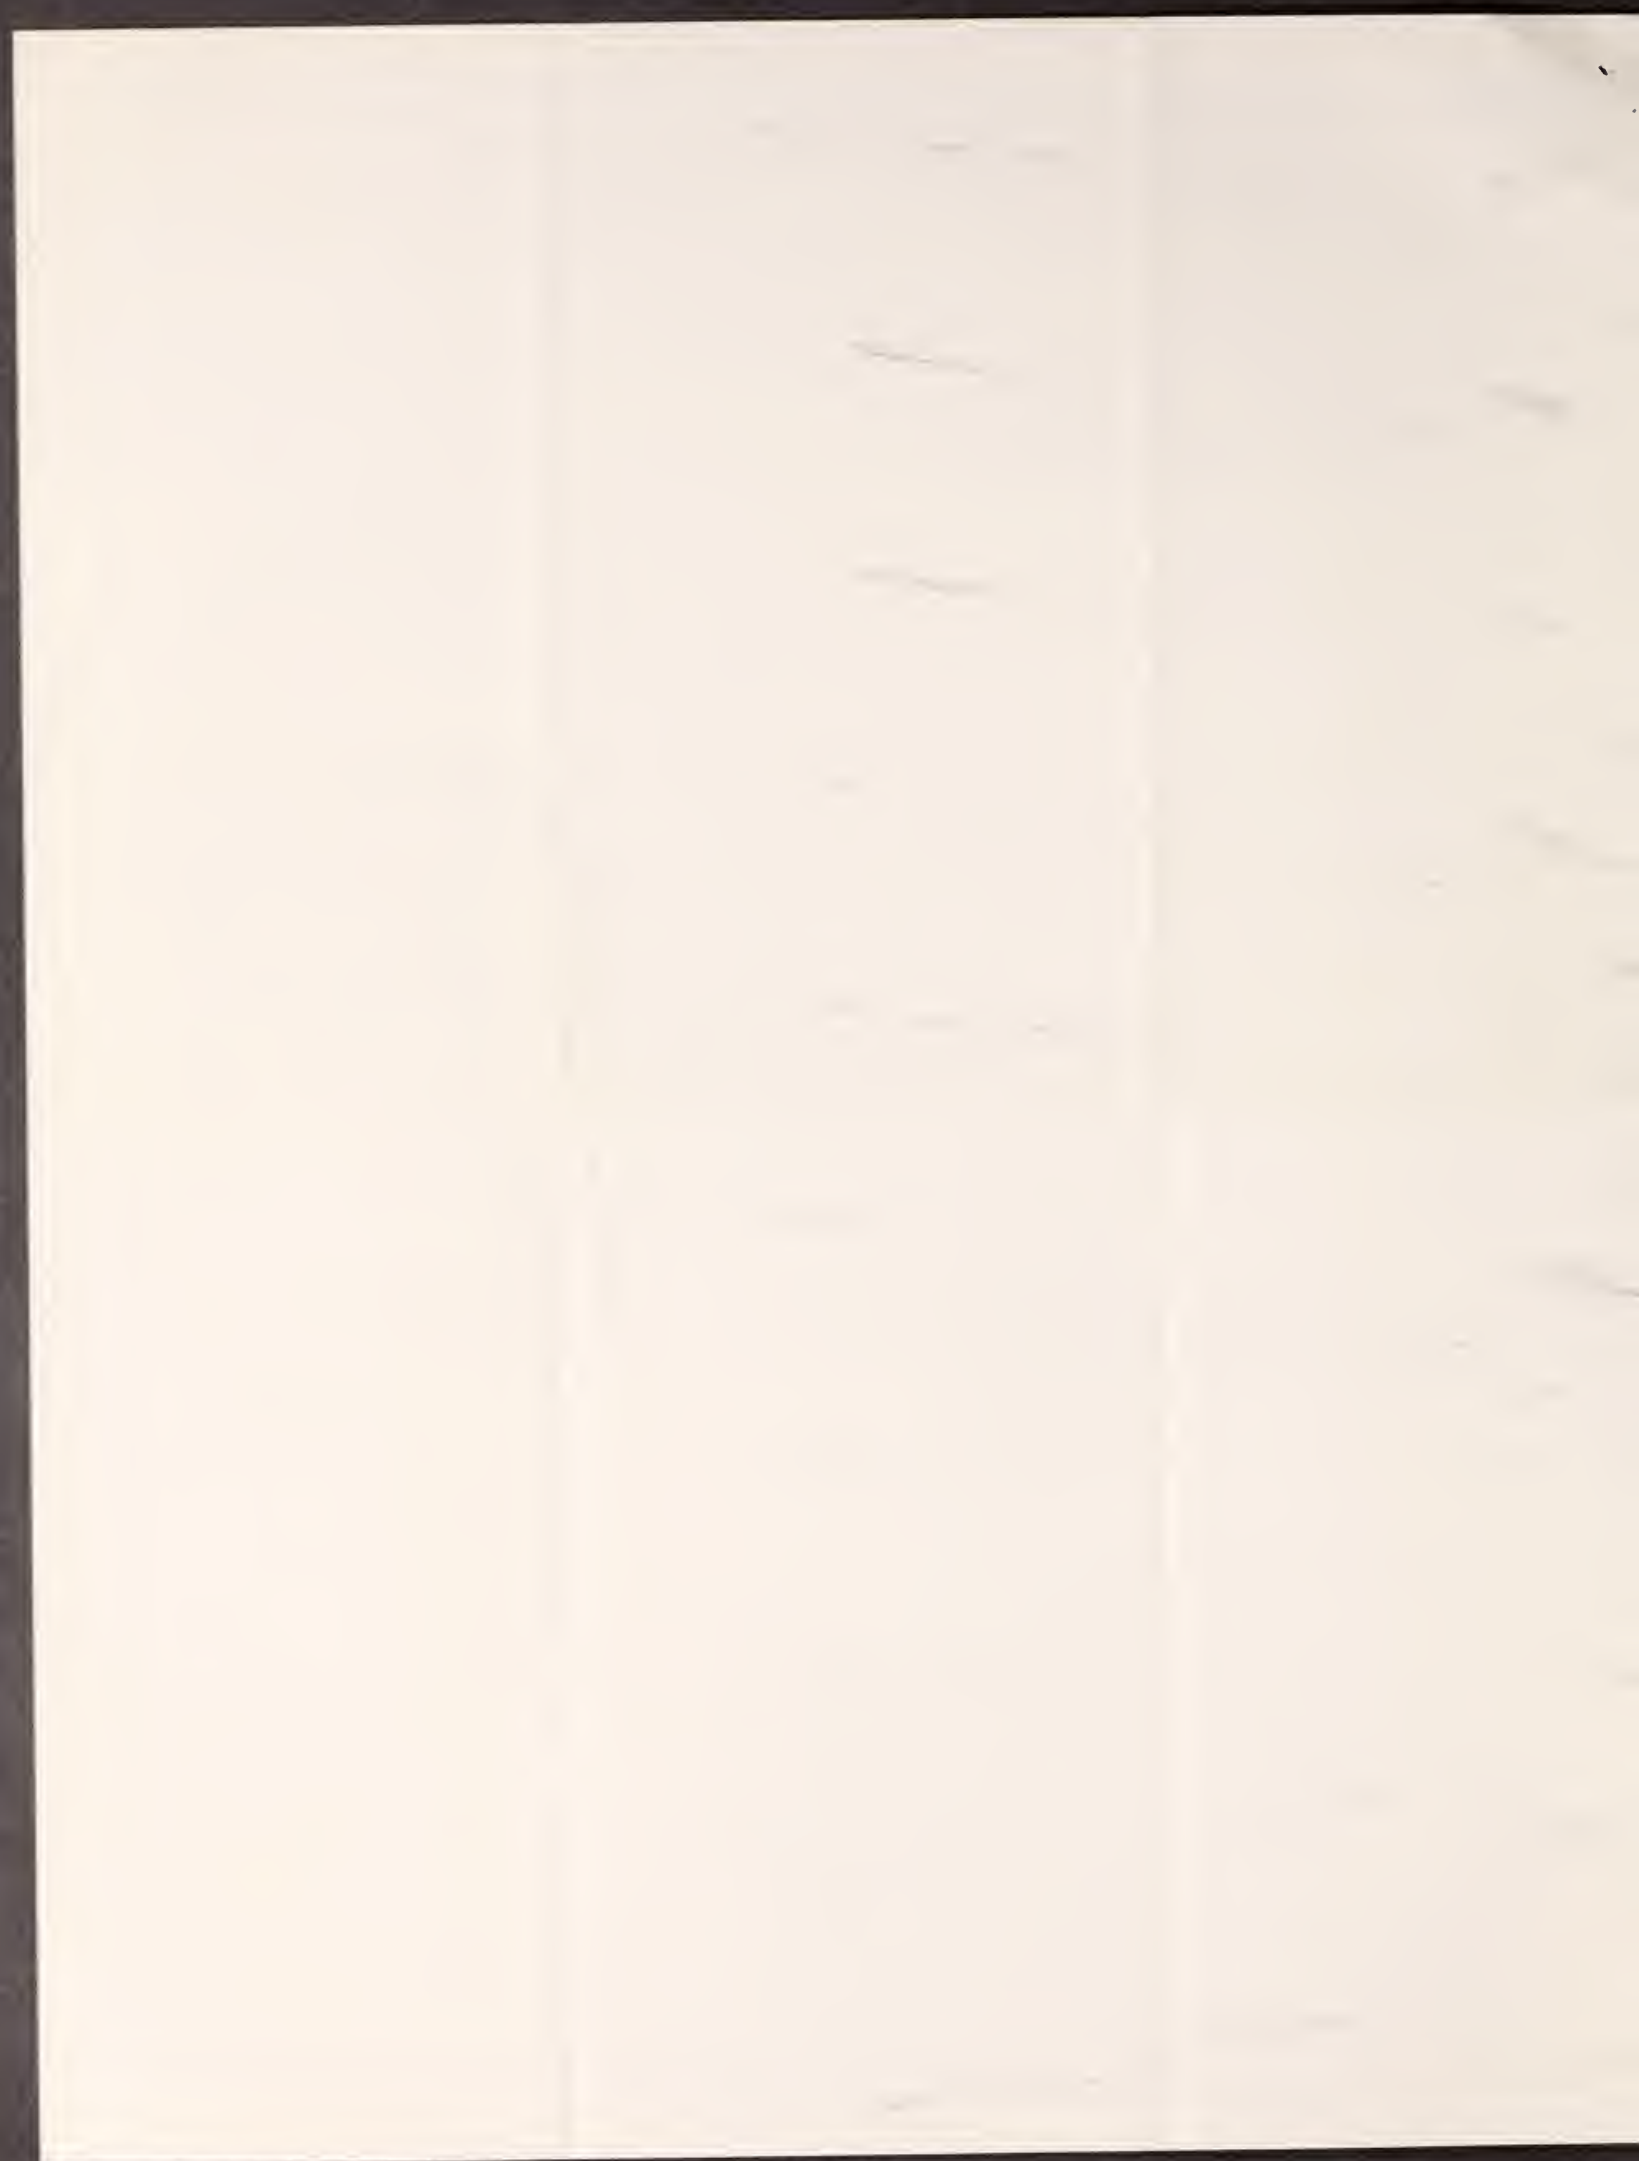

Then I checked on The Bulletin and The Ontario Register (genealogical magazines) to see anything for Hubbell and Inscriptions in cemeteries. I found something that would be interesting to you....
The Ontario Register, 1969; Vol. 2, No. 4: Inscriptions of the Myrtle Cemetery, Whitby Twp. copied by Thomas B. Wilson. (I overlooked that one, too!)

Frink, Hannah B. wife of Luke Frink, died 1 September 1855 at age 34 years, 1 month, 23 days
Frink, Experience, second wife of Luke Frink, died 28 Nov 1859 at age 23 years, 9 months, 5 days.

Here is the extra sheet for your observous....Also noticed Hubbell family on page 249. Experience's sister is Almira who married Seth Hubbell. I guess that is where there were so much twist informations around. The big question is: Are you sure Luke's first wife was Hannah B. Hubbell? That is what I want to know. Also an other questions: are the Permella & Almira the daughter of Experience rather than said "Almira"?

Note: I want to have all the address of descendants of those two daughters, Permella & Almira if possible. It will be appreciated very much.

Another thing....the letter of Mrs. Little shook me up real good and put me into second thought, may need to put third thought, too. About the ancestry of Luke Frink.

According to the letter, I will quote: herself as 69 years old, being granddaughter of Luke Frink....so I felt that she really knew Luke Frink. Luke died 1 June 1908. Better that her own mother is still alive, 93 years old (1971). So I think her letter is good as gold.

".....I understand my great grandfather David Frink (father of Luke) came from England, although some claim they are of Dutch descent, but so the story goes. There were six brothers and three settled in United States and three in Canada. But I have no proof that my grandfather Luke Frink is the fourth child of David Frink and Permelia Miller. My grandfather Luke Frink had a son named John William who had a son called Cecil Hardy living in England who has a son named John who is nearing twenty years of age I believe. According to Mrs. J.R.Humphreys there was a John Frink in England (1600) Who was he? My grandfather had two daughters by his second wife. Who some say her sur-name was Hubble. Are you sure it was Kellogg?"

"Permelia Cook lived at Swan River, Manitoba where many Cooks now live so I have been informed. She had four children of whom one is Mrs. William (Francis) Saul of Saskatoon whom the Russell Craigs of Napanee visit and ~~we~~ are well acquainted with."

"Almira married Eldridge Barnes (a widower with one son). They had one son, Glen Barnes of Detroit who is a dentist."

So you can see that letter is indeed valuable! Is Dr. Glen Barnes still alive? How about his descendants' addresses if available?

Now, about the book which was compiled by Peggy Frink Humphreys of New York City plus two late Henry Farnsworth Frink and late Wilbur Gustavus Frink.....The book is now title: "THE FRINK FAMILY IN AMERICA" published in the year of 1971....tells us that Luke Frink is the son of David Frink who is the son of Luke who is son of Jonas (married to Freelove Bromley, daughter of Luke Bromley), son of James Frink, son of Samuel Frink, son of John of Stonington, Connecticut, may be son of John Frink of Ispwich, Massachusetts in the year of 1640.....known he came from England, of course.

That Luke Bromley according to Bromley Genealogy book by Viola A. Bromley is the son of William, son of Luke Bromley who came to Rhode Island from England in the year around 1650 or so.

David Frink, the father of Luke, was born about 1790 in Hoosick, New York; later married Permelia Miller; bear him 13 children. His wife lived to be 106 years old. He had one brother, Luke (he was killed by Indians as it was said.) and three sisters. Our Luke is the fourth son of David. Almost all of the descendants of David Frink were scattered all over Canada and Michigan.

As I see Luke had a daughter named Permelia after his mother, Permelia Miller Frink, wife of David. Luke himself bears his name after ^(every) other generations since back to Luke Bromley. Of course, the problem is which one is the David Frink: son of Luke Frink of New York or son of England? That is the one we must find out. Also we must find the proof that David Frink did come to Canada or U.S. with his five brothers....passenger records....Must have the name of Ship and what year.....Any Bible family record....Journal records.....or something.....

Please answer my letter and share of what you learned or have that will help us all..... My many thanks..... Sincerely, James D. Still

Dr. H. C. Burleigh
P.O. Box 9
Bath, Ontario, Canada

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

Recieved your letter a month ago and thank a lot. I appreciated it very much.

Luke Frink is my great great grandfather. Experience Kellogg, his first wife has only one daughter, Mary Adelaide, born 16 Dec 1851 at Whitby twp, Ontario County, Ontario. Mary Adelaide Frink married Alvin Still 28 May 1870 at Grundy Center, Iowa. Alvin Still born 1 June 1839 at Whitby twp or Reach twp, Ontario County, the son of AHIEL STILL and Hannah Howe.

Something will interest you of what I found from 1861 Census of Reach twp, Ontario County, Ontario (written July 28, 1861)

LUKE FRINK	age 31	male	Laborer	Birthplace U.C.	Religion none	$1100 value
MARIA Frink	19	female		U.C.	none
ADELAIDE	6	female		U.C.
ALIMRA	3	female		U.C.
PERMELIA	2	female		U.C.

We know that Luke Frink married Maria Blanchard on the date of 30 October 1860 at Reach twp, Ontario County, Ontario.

In your letter I got the impression that you seem to think Luke Frink had two wives in his life time. Without proof, I was told by THE FRINK FAMILY IN AMERICA by Peggy F. Humphreys that Luke Frink had three wives. He married 2nd: ALMIRA Kellogg (~~ALMIRA~~ probably not related to his first wife, Experience Kellogg). His second wife bear him two more daughters then died.

I wish I could go up to Whitby twp and Reach twp, Ontario County so I can search for those two Kellogg wives. It seems that inscriptions of the tombstones in cemeteries are my only hope. Have you ever checked there yourself before? Since they are not members of any religion according to 1861 census, where and how did Luke married three times?

Do you know anyone who is the descendants of Almira and Permelia, daughter of Luke Frink and Almira Kellogg? Who knows they may be helpful. Mrs. Ruby Frink knew I think. Mrs. Little knows?

You said in your letter that you have numbers of clippings on Frinks. Pray thee that I may have them from xerox copies of all clippings. May I, please? Wonder if you have picture of Experience Kellogg Frink?

I am curious how do Luke Frink related to you?

May I hear from you soon. Many thanks.

Sincerely, James D. Still

Dr. H. C. Burleigh
Bath, Ontario, Canada
(Lennox & Addington County)

Dear Dr. H. C. Burleigh:

I was told that you are genealogist on FRINK family. It was Mrs. Velma Little who informed me about your searching.

I am also descendant of Luke Frink and his first wife, Experience Kellogg (daughter of James and Olive (Toman) Kellogg). I am sure you do know that he married three times and had totally 14 children.

I wonder if you know that there is a new book which was published just two years ago: THE FRINK FAMILY IN AMERICA by Peggy F. Humphreys. A real good genealogy book. Too bad I was not blessed to get the book because it is out of stock and I postponed to buy it too long. I learned my lesson. The book published to only 200 copies.

Well, I managed to get xerox copies alright. I have all informations I need for my FRINK genealogy.

From this book, I learned that Luke Frink is the son of David Frink, son of Luke, son of Jonas, son of James, son of Samuel, son of John born 1633 in Brixton, England and settled at Stonington, Conn.

Right now I am interested about Luke Frink's second wife, Almira Kellogg. Who is she? Daughter of who? She is ~~tk~~ not the sister of Luke's first wife Expierence. That is true Experience does have a sister Almira but she married Seth Hubbell and bear him three children. Luke gave two daughters to Almira: Permelia and Almira.

Also: Luke's parents: David Frink and his wife Permelia Miller. Permelia remarried _____ Barnhart, died about 1864 at aged 106.

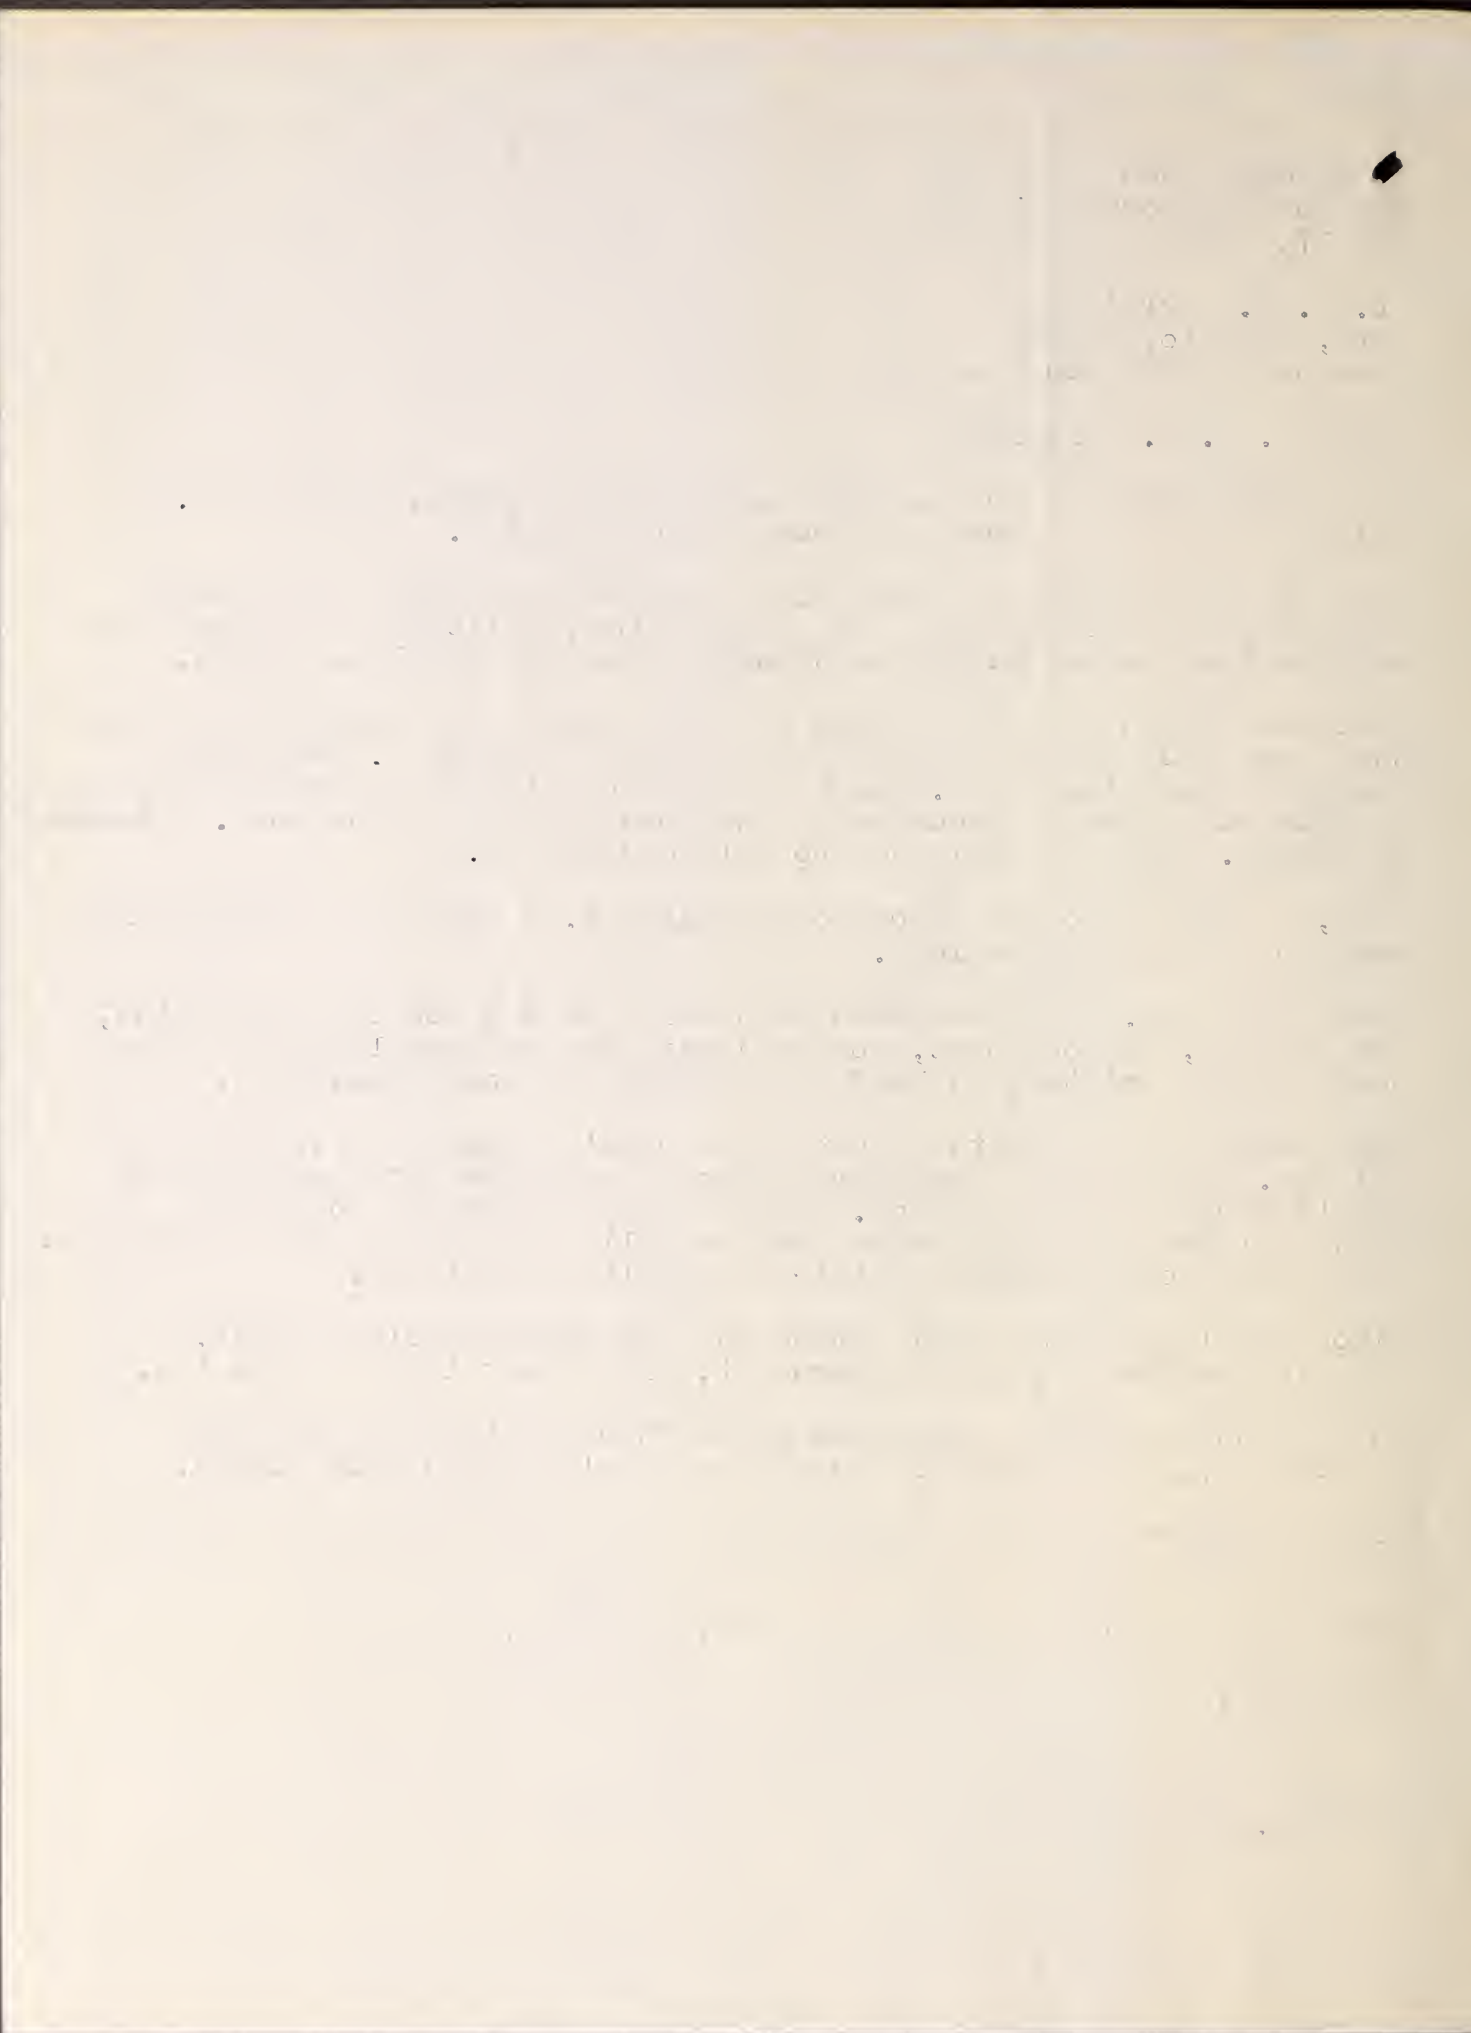

Do you know when did Experience died? It was said that she died 28 Nov 1859, but I think it meant for Luke's second wife Almira.

Do you know any living relatives which are descendants of Luke & Almira Frink?

Trust that I will hear from you soon, I remain,

Sincerely,

James D. Still

Deseronto Couple Mark Fifty Years Married

Deseronto. — A happy event was celebrated at the home of Capt. and Mrs. W. O. Frink, Centre St. Deseronto, recently, when their children, relatives and friends, numbering over 100, visited them on their golden wedding anniversary, to tender their congratulations and best wishes. Also, over 100 cards and telegrams from their many friends and relatives scattered over the United States and Canada have been received and many beautiful bouquets from neighbors and friends.

The diningroom table was tastefully decorated with a Chinese straw linen and lace embroidered cloth and centered with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by George Hagerman, baker, who has returned to Deseronto to re-establish the business of his father who was a baker here and a friend of the Frink family for many years.

Delightful flower arrangements decorated the rooms, including a huge bouquet of golden bronze roses, the gift of Capt. Frink to his wife.

Among the many beautiful gifts from friends and relatives was a walnut Westminster chimes clock from their children, Maj. and Mrs. H. R. Frink, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, of Godfrey; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jordan, of Deseronto, and Maj. and Mrs. W. D. H. Frink, of Petawawa Camp Headquarters.

Mrs. George Tagg, of Rochester, N.Y., poured tea; Mrs. G. Shea, of Deseronto, and Mrs. Nelson Hart, of Napanee, acted as hostesses, to the callers received by Capt. and Mrs. Frink, and Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mrs. Nelson Hart, Mrs. N. G. Babcock, all of Napanee; Mrs. Garry Hunt, of Regina, Sask. Mrs. Thomas Jordan, of Deseronto, and Mrs. Harry Brown, of Godfrey, helped serve.

Among the many relatives present from the surrounding areas were: Mr. and Mrs. George Tagg, of Rochester, N.Y., a niece of Capt. Frink and sister of Mrs. G. Shea, of Deseronto, and Mrs. Blake Gilbert, of Napanee, as well as Mrs. Harry Hunt, of Regina, a grand-niece.

Capt. W. O. Frink, of Odessa, the youngest son of the late Robert Frink, and his wife, Cynthia, and Mrs. Frink, the former Sarah A. Storey, daughter of the late Henry Storey, and his wife, Jessise, of Switzerville, were married at Napanee on June 1, 1904, by Rev. George S. White. Their bridesmaid was Miss Pearl Maybee, of Odessa, and the best man was Harry Peters, of Odessa.

Capt. Frink went overseas as a lieutenant with the 21st Battalion on May 5, 1915, in the First World War, and was joined in England, two months later by Mrs. Frink and their three children. Their younger son, Maj. W. D. H. Frink, was born at Lyminge, Kent, on the day of the Jutland Naval Battle, May 31, 1916. Lt. Frink was promoted to a captain in France. He was invalided to England in January, 1917, after three months in a field hospital in France. In May, 1917, he returned to Canada with the family and in 1918, after further hospitalization, was placed on the retired list with the honorary rank of major.

In 1923 he joined the Ontario Provincial Police and was posted to Sudbury and in 1925 was transferred to the motorcycle patrol at Belleville. Due to injuries and war service disability, he was retired in 1933. He and Mrs. Frink came to Deseronto in 1940, when their two sons went overseas with the Royal Canadian Artillery, in the Second World War.

Capt. Frink has been ill for many years but Mrs. Frink is still able to carry on her household duties and is active in the Women's Missionary Society and Woman's Association and other United Church work here. Mrs. R. A. Fifield, of Hamilton, is the only surviving sister of Capt. Frink, of a family of seven. Mrs. Frink has five sisters living: Mrs. James Miller, of Hamilton; Mrs. N. J. Babcock, of Napanee; Mrs. Elridge Babcock, of Kingston; Mrs. Nelson Hart, of Napanee, and Mrs. Charles Baldwin, of North Bay, and one brother, William Storey, of Selby. They are the survivors of a family of 12.

Capt. Frink's grandfather was an United Empire Loyalist of English descent, who settled at Collins Bay. Mrs. Frink's father was a veteran of the North-West Rebellion and her mother was a grand-niece of Col. Christopher S. Jackson, who was in the Union Army during the Civil War in the United States. Her great-grandparents were United Empire Loyalists, who settled in Prince Edward County.

chology in that country. She told us the Netherlands is the most densely populated country in Europe and Canada and Canadians are very highly regarded, there. We should guard this well, especially when it seems every nation in the world is suspicious of almost every other nation.

Conservation, she pointed out, is most sorely neglected in our country when one sees how the forests and soil are guarded in the Netherlands. Greece is a pathetic example of the lack of conservation, as the rocky land there has become practically non-productive.

Canadians have an abundance of manufactured products, which raises our standard of living, as the average individual can enjoy these things. There is a danger, however, Miss McBride concluded, as we see a lack of care of these products.

Following reports, a discussion period led by Mrs. R. Roblin and Mrs. D. W. Weese, gave each branch an opportunity to explain how particular problems were dealt with, probably solving the same problem for some other branch.

Mrs. Fleming thanked all who, in any way, had helped to make the day such a pleasant and profitable one, and extended an invitation, on behalf of Amherst Island branch, to hold the next district annual on the Island.

The National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

square pews were used. Those in St. Alban's were installed when the church was built.

Rev. R. S. Forneri conceived the idea of the United Empire Loyalist Memorial Church. First he noted the utter lack of care of the old United Empire Loyalist graveyard, and felt that the records of the founders of what had been an entirely U. E. L. settlement, were being lost. Secondly, he thought the parish needed a new church, and he felt that a memorial church with the records inside the building where they would be permanent, would meet both needs.

St. Alban's Church was begun in 1834 and opened in 1890. The land on which the church was built was not church property, but was the gift of J. J. Watson, a lifelong member of the church.

Deaths and Funerals

JOSEPH V. McQUAID

Joseph Vincent McQuaid, 60, an employee at Eastern Ontario Area Headquarters here for 12 years, died suddenly March 7 at his residence, 157 Queen street.

Mr. McQuaid was a Kingston native. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William McQuaid and worshipped at St. John the Apostle church.

Surviving are three sisters, Miss Ethel McQuaid of Belleville; Mrs. E. N. (Olive) McKegg, Windsor; and Miss Eleanor McQuaid of Kingston.

Rev. E. R. Barrett sang requiem high mass, celebrated at 9 a.m. March 9 in St. John the Apostle church. Committal prayers were recited by Rev. D. P. Clement.

Pall-bearers were Gregory McKegg, Walter Palmer, Patrick McQuaid and Gary McQuaid, all nephews of the deceased, and William Little and Bernard Garrah.

Burial was made at St. Mary's Cemetery.

JOHN WILLIAM FRINK

A Kingston man who spent most of his 95 years in Collins Bay and Odessa district died in the Espagnol General Hospital recently.

John William Frink, one-time member of the Ernestown Township Council, died following a brief illness. He resided in Nairn Centre for the last two years of his life.

Born in Summerville, Ont., Mr. Frink was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Luke Frink. He married the former Julia Maude Smith, who predeceased him two years ago.

The Masonic Order AF and AM of Odessa, of which Mr. Frink was a member, held a special service at the Robert Reid Funeral Home where the body was resting.

Mr. Frink is survived by daughters Mrs. H. K. Green, (Roxie) of Nairn Centre; Mrs. Andrew J. Maclean, (Hazel) of Kingston, son Cecil of London, Eng., sister Mrs. Hannah Cranston, Napanee, brother Walter of Collins Bay, nine grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Pall-bearers were four nephews, Ernest Frink, Clifford Frink, Glen Kavaner, Ray Keniston and Masonic brothers William Smith and Briden Clark.

The funeral was conducted from the Robert Reid funeral chapel by the Rev. Berry Armstrong of the Edith Rankin Memorial Church, Collins Bay. Interment was at Cataraqui cemetery.

GEORGE PETERSON

DESERONTO—George Peterson, 43, of Deseronto was buried March 25 in Deseronto cemetery following his recent death after a short illness.

He was born in Adolphustown and worked as a farm laborer a bloodbath worse than The Congo's?

Government officials and moderates—both European and African — assure this reporter that Africa's first transition to freedom in a colony heavily settled by whites will go quietly and peacefully. But:

- More than a fifth of the 60,000 European residents here have sold what they could and moved out in the past 18 months.

- More emigrants are leaving daily, many of them the children and grandchildren of England's Kenya pioneers now driven by fear to become pioneers themselves in countries from Sweden to Austria.

- The remaining non-African population, a vast community of Asian Indians, is convinced that they will be the first target of virulent African nationalism. There is no place for them to go.

This exodus and fear, however, does not necessarily mean that Kenya's agony, if it comes, will boil out of a black vs. non-black hatred.

On the contrary, even out in Nyeri and the Mt. Kenya area, once the centre of the Mau Mau civil war which resulted in over 11,000 killings, a white traveller is greeted with smiles, vigorous waving and, if he has the time, long and friendly conversation.

Anti-white feeling, where it exists at all, is directed against the individual European farmer or Asian merchant for his success.

In Maragwa, for instance, farmer Elias Kiratu, detained 11 years by the government for Mau Mau complicity, called after this reporter and hurried down the road to say in Swahili:

"Tell the Americans we like them very much. We have a great deal in common with them. You were once a British colony too."

country. We cannot go on sending our children to Europe for their higher learning."

In part, it is nationalist sentiment like this—and its prospect in land reform, taxation and government administration — that is breaking up the European community.

The government has already set up some 30 land settlement projects, buying out European farmers at good prices and resettling Africans on underdeveloped land with long-term mortgages.

But European farmers with big, revenue-producing acreage in coffee, tea and other cash crops know that their farms have been marked for subdivision among Africans or, if not, then for pilfering harassment and the other marks of envy. Says one cattle rancher: "I expect I'll be asked to stay. But if I accept, I'll either be taxed beyond reason or, more likely, my cattle will disappear and my crops will soon become infected as the neighboring land goes under a more indigenous cultivation."

The Kenya European community everywhere has a similar way with words—the way of a people who are mastering the art of swallowing their opinions to avoid antagonism.

By far the largest fear of the European and Asian community, however, is over the looming aspect of tribal warfare
